

Acknowledgments

Many people helped us to write this book. First of all, we are grateful to the activists on the No Tav and No Ponte protest campaigns, who trusted us with their memories of highly intense experiences and their reasons for acting. We hope this book can help them, among others, make their voices heard.

We are also grateful to those who helped us with the research on which this volume is based. In particular, Massimiliano Andretta and Eugenio Pizzimenti who carried out the interviews and collected documents on the protests in Val di Susa.

Different versions of chapters of this book have been presented at conferences at the European University Institute in Fiesole, the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, the ECPR joint sessions in Nicosia, and the annual conference of the Società Italiana di Scienza Politica in Bologna. We learned from comments and criticism made by colleagues on all these occasions.

We are finally grateful to our respective partners, Herbert and Egle, who supported and tolerated us with love and patience during this long and hard work.

The geographical distance notwithstanding, the two authors cooperated intensively during the research in the field, the analysis of the results, and the writing of this book. Each chapter is in fact a comparative analysis of the two cases, built upon Donatella della Porta's knowledge of the Val di Susa campaign and Gianni Piazza's expertise on the No Ponte protest. Although sharing responsibility for the complete book, the final drafting of the manuscript has been divided as follows: Donatella della Porta has written chapter 1.1., chapter 3 and chapter 4 (excluding 4.6 to 4.8); Gianni Piazza chapter 1.2., chapter 2, chapter 4.6 to 4.8, and chapter 5.
