After the Pink Tide Corporate State Formation and New Egalitarianisms in Latin America

Edited by Marina Gold, University of Zurich and Alessandro Zagato, Research Group in Art and Politics (GIAP)

Afterword by Bruce Kapferer

"To my mind, there are no other books or works on Latin America that have this double focus on the corporate state and egalitarianism. In sum, the book provides a wealth of novel arguments to understand the rise, maturation and afterlife of one of the most important and complex political turns to the left after the year 2000" · Bjorn Enge Bertelsen, University of Bergen

Techniques, Technology and Civilization Marcel Mauss

Edited and with an Introduction by Nathan Schlanger, AREA project at the INHA

"The appearance of these two essays... in English for the first time attests to the continuing interest in Marcel Mauss and the fact that re-readings of his work still provide not only fertile ground for new interpretations of the Durkheimian school in general, but also a source of inspiration for scholars approaching Mauss as a remarkably contemporary voice still speaking in many ways to current issues in sociology and anthropology." · Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute

This book will interest scholars and students dealing with the French sociological tradition, and also more generally those concerned with technology and material culture studies in archaeological, anthropological or contemporary settings.

Foucault's Orient The Conundrum of Cultural Difference, From Tunisia to Japan

Marnia Lazreg, Hunter College

"This is a serious and pivotal book that shows the limits of Foucault's rejection of universalism and humanism. Lazreg's book allows us to re-read Foucault within his boundaries." · Massimiliano Tomba, University of Padua

Using archival research supplemented by interviews with key scholars in Tunisia, Japan and France, this book examines the philosophical sources, evolution as well as contradictions of Foucault's experience with non-Western cultures.

Protest Cultures A Companion

Edited by Kathrin Fahlenbrach, University of Hamburg, Martin Klimke, New York University Abu Dhabi and Joachim Scharloth, Waseda University

Protest is a ubiquitous and richly varied social phenomenon, one that finds expression not only in modern social movements and political organizations but also in grassroots initiatives, individual action, and creative works. This definitive research companion dramatically expands the analytical perspective on subject by covering a remarkable array of protest cultures.

Cousin Marriages Between Tradition, Genetic Risk and Cultural Change

Edited by Alison Shaw, University of Oxford and Aviad Raz, Ben-Gurion University

"The utility of Cousin Marriages does not end, however, with researchers who have a direct stake in the issues. This book addresses an often oversimplified and misunderstood theme in both the science and culture of mating and does so using clear viewpoints with each chapter setting its own tone." · Medical Anthropology Quarterly

Shakespeare and His Biographical Afterlives

Edited by Paul Franssen, Utrecht University and Paul Edmondson, The Shakespeare Birthplace Trust

New Shakespeare biographies are published every year, though very little new documentary evidence has come to light. Inevitably speculative, these biographies straddle the line between fact and fiction. Shakespeare and His Biographical Afterlives explores the relationship between fiction and non-fiction within Shakespeare's biography.

Shakespeare and Money

Edited by Graham Holderness

Though better known for his literary merits, Shakespeare made money, wrote about money and enabled money-making by countless others in his name. With chapters by leading scholars on the economic, financial and commercial ramifications of his work, this multifaceted volume connects the Bard to both early modern and contemporary economic conditions, revealing Shakespeare to have been a serious economist in his own right.

Boro, L'Île d'Amour

The Films of Walerian Borowczyk

Edited by Kamila Kuc, Kuba Mikurda, and Michał Oleszczyk

"Boro, L'Île d'Amour will prove an essential companion for both those readers who wish to dive deeper into specific topics, and those looking to cherry-pick individual films ...one of the qualities that Borowczyk valued most in film was its ability to capture perpetual motion. [This volume] does just that: it honors the artist in flux, finding fresh points of connection, without trying to pin him down."

Not Even Past

How the United States Ends Wars

Edited by David Fitzgerald, University College Cork
David Ryan, University College Cork and John M. Thompson, Center for Security Studies, ETH Zurich

"Not Even Past is that rare edited collection where each successive essay holds to the standard of the rest, bringing with it insights and delights in every chapter. This book provides a very important and historically informed perspective." · Jeffrey A. Engel, Southern Methodist University

This volume brings together international experts on American history and foreign affairs to assess the cumulative impact of the United States' often halting and conflicted attempts to end wars. It offers essential perspectives on the Cold War and post-9/11 eras and explores the troubling implications of the American tendency to fight wars without end.

Escape From Hell

The True Story of the Auschwitz Protocol

Alfred Wetzler†
Translated by Ewald Osers
Edited by Peter Varnai
Foreword by Sir Martin Gilbert
Introduction by Robert Rozett

"...a compelling read; a real thriller. To the Bomb and Back

Finnish War Children Tell Their World War II Stories

Edited by Sue Saffle, Virginia Tech
Foreword by Kai Rosnell

"...a fine collection... The book is affecting, to be read a little at a time. You won't forget it afterwards." · Finnish American Cultural Activities

This is the first English-language account of Finland's war children and their experiences, told through the survivors' own words. Supported by an extensive introduction, a bibliography of secondary sources, and over two dozen photographs, this book testifies to the often-lifelong traumas endured by youthful survivors of war.

Reluctant Skeptic Siegfried Kracauer and the Crises of Weimar Culture

Harry T. Craver, University of North Carolina

"Harry Craver's rich and nuanced study revisits Kracauer's nonconformist views and underscores the religious context in which they emerged..."

In portraying Kracauer's reflections on religious concepts as emblematic of post-World War I German intellectual life, Craver sets the stage for a novel, intriguing discussion of Weimar modernity and its crisis." · American Historical Review
