

DANCE AND PERFORMANCE STUDIES

GENERAL EDITORS

Jonathan Skinner, University of Roehampton
Helena Wulff, Stockholm University

ADVISORY BOARD

Alexandra Carter, Middlesex University
Marion Kant, University of Pennsylvania
Tim Scholl, Oberlin College

In all cultures, and across time, people have danced. For performers and spectators, the expressive nature of dance opens up spaces where social and political circumstances are creatively negotiated. Grounded in ethnography, this series explores dance, music and bodily movement in cultural contexts at the juncture of history, ritual and performance in an interconnected world.

24 BARS TO KILL

Hip Hop, Aspiration, and Japan's Social Margins

Andrew B. Armstrong

"This excellent ethnography will stand the test of time and will provide useful material for those who want to understand important ideas of Japanese sub-cultures and how they intersect with local, national and global trends over time."

• Roger Goodman, Nissan Professor of Modern Japanese Studies, University of Oxford

24 Bars to Kill offers a fascinating ethnographic account of this music as well as the subculture around it, showing how gangsta hip-hop arises from widespread dissatisfaction and malaise.

LULLABIES AND BATTLE CRIES

Music, Identity and Emotion among Republican Parading Bands in Northern Ireland

Jaime Rollins

Set against a volatile political landscape, Irish republican culture has struggled to maintain continuity with the past, affirm legitimacy in the present, and generate a sense of community for the future. Lullabies and Battle Cries explores the relationship between music, emotion, memory, and identity in republican parading bands, with a focus on how this music continues to be utilized in a post-conflict climate.

SINGING IDEAS

Performance, Politics and Oral Poetry

Triona Ní Shíocháin

"This excellent book gives a concise, comprehensive overview of oral poetry in a crisply written style, confidently delivered and supported by rigorous scholarship." Lillis Ó Laoire, National University of Ireland, Galway

The songs of the beloved Irish poet Máire Bhúí Ní Laeire (Yellow Mary O'Leary) explore themes of colonial subjection, oppression and injustice, representing an integral contribution to the development of anti-colonial thought in Ireland. Singing Ideas explores the significance of her work, and the immense power of her chosen medium.

STAGING CITIZENSHIP

Roma, Performance and Belonging in EU Romania

Ioana Szeman

Based on over a decade of fieldwork conducted with urban Roma, Staging Citizenship offers a powerful new perspective on one of the European Union's most marginal and disenfranchised communities. Focusing on "performance" broadly conceived, it follows members of a squatter's settlement in Transylvania as they navigate precarious circumstances in a postsocialist state.

COLLABORATIVE INTIMACIES IN MUSIC AND DANCEAnthropologies of Sound and Movement

Edited by Evangelos Chrysagis and Panas Karampampas

"Collaborative Intimacies in Music and Dance is an innovative collection of sound and movement anthropologies. These interdisciplinary texts employ the timely and sharp lens of critical studies while engaging with post-colonial cultural studies. A vital, exemplary collection of ethnographic writing." · Dena Davida, Université du Québec à Montréal

LANGUID BODIES, GROUNDED STANCESThe Curving Pathway of Neoclassical Odissi Dance

Nandini Sikand

"This is a significant work of scholarship as Sikand also draws attention to important methodological approaches in the future study of odissi, its historiography and sources such as paintings and palm-leaf manuscripts which have only been studied by very few scholars..." · Pulse Magazine

Building on ethnographic research in multiple locations, this book charts the evolution of odissi dance and reveals the richness, rigor, and complexity of the form as it is practiced today.
