

LIFE COURSE, CULTURE AND AGING: GLOBAL TRANSFORMATIONS

Series Editor: Jay Sokolovsky, University of South Florida St. Petersburg

Published by Berghahn Books under the auspices of the Association for Anthropology and Gerontology (AAGE) and the American Anthropological Association Interest Group on Aging and the Life Course.

The consequences of aging will influence most areas of contemporary life around the globe, from the makeup of households and communities, to systems of care, attitudes toward health, disability and life's end. Engaging a cross-cultural framework, this series publishes monographs and edited books that examine these widespread transformations with a perspective on the entire life course and a particular focus on mid/late adulthood.
