LOVE, LOYALTY AND DECEIT Rosemary Firth, a Life in the Shadow of Two Eminent Men Hugh Firth and Loulou Brown

How much do we really know about our parents' lives? What secrets lie in plain sight? This is the true story of hidden love within a small circle of some of the most acclaimed anthropologists of the 20th century.

Told by Rosemary and Raymond Firth's son, and the daughter of Celia and Edmund Leach, the man Rosemary loved all her life, this part love-story, part biography, part social history is the tale of a highly influential circle of social anthropologists in Britain from the 1930s, through the Second World War, to the end of the century.

OPEN ACCESS ONCE UPON A TIME IS NOW A Kalahari Memoir Megan Biesele

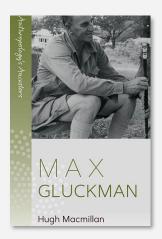

Fifty years after her first fieldwork with Ju/'hoan San hunter-gatherers, anthropologist Megan Biesele has written this exceptional memoir based on personal journals she wrote at the time.

The treasure trove of vivid learning experiences and nightly ponderings she found has led to a memoir of rare value to anthropology students and academics as well as to general readers. Her experiences focus on the long-lived healing dance, known to many as the trance dance, and the intricate beliefs, artistry, and social system that support it.

She describes her immersion in a creative community enlivened and kept healthy by that dance, which she calls "one of the great intellectual achievements of humankind."

ALFRED CORT HADDON

A Very English Savage

Ciarán Walsh, freelance curator and writer

From the Introduction:

Alfred Cort Haddon was written out of the story of anthropology for the same reasons that make him interesting today. He was passionately committed to the protection of simpler societies and their civilisations from colonists and their supporters in parliament and the armed forces.

MARY DOUGLAS

Paul Richards, University College London and Perri 6, Queen Mary University

Her work focused on how human groups classify one another, and how they resolve the anomalies that then arise. Classification, she argued, emerges from practices of social life, and is a factor in all deep and intractable human disputes.

THE MAKING AND UNMAKING OF THE UKRAINIAN WORKING CLASS

Everyday Politics and Moral Economy in a Post-Soviet City

Denys Gorbach, University of Versailles-Saint-Quentin

Industrial workers in Ukraine have a complex political lifeworld because their political action aimed at bringing radical social change coexists with a demobilizing stance that condemns all political participation as corrupt. Based on three years of fieldwork in the city of Kryvyi Rih, the book focuses on the moral economy that constitutes the working-class and structures its relations with other social groups.

EXCHANGE AND MARKETS IN EARLY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Informal Economy in the Three New Guineas

John D. Conroy, Australian National University

The idea of an informal economy emerged from, and is a critique of, the ideology of 'economic development'. It originated from Keith Hart's recognition of informal economic activity in 1960s Ghana. In the context of four colonialisms – German, British, Australian and Dutch – this book recounts Hart's effort in 1972 to introduce the informal 'sector' into development planning in Papua New Guinea.

Theodoros Rakopoulos, University of Oslo

"Overall, the book should have wide appeal, and will be of interest to scholars of cooperatives, organised crime and counter-organised crime. While the books primarily subject is cooperatives, it would sit comfortable with other ethnographies of organised crime. Moreover, it provides an important critical dimension to the growing literature on the use of economic development to counter organised crime and illicit enterprise, especially the power inequalities inherent in such endeavours." • Irish Journal of Anthropology

SET TO SEE US FAIL Debating Inequalities in the Child Welfare System of New York

Viola Castellano, University of Bayreuth

Examining the interaction between families and professionals in the child welfare system of New York, this book focuses on how inequalities are reproduced, measured, managed, and contested. The book describes how state institutions and neoliberal governance police the groups which are most represented in the child welfare system, including low income, female-headed families living in racialized neighborhoods.

THE FEELING OF THE FALL

An Ethnographic Writing Experiment between the Belize Barrier Reef and the Edges of Toronto, Ontario

Ines Taccone

As an inquiry into engagements with forces of loss and threat, this work explores experimental ways to write about climate crisis in anthropology. From Belize to Ontario and back, this ambitious piece of ethnographic writing set during a time "beyond ruin" in a fictional, ecotourist community in the year 2040.

ON THE NERVOUS EDGE OF AN IMPOSSIBLE PARADISE Affect, Tourism, Belize

Kenneth Little, York University

There are beastly forces in Belize. Forces that are actively involved in making paradise impossible. On the Nervous Edge of an Impossible Paradise is a collection of seven stories about local lives in the fictional village of Wallaceville. They turn rogue in the face of runaway forces that take the form and figure of a Belize beast-time, which can appear as a comic mishap, social ruin, tragic excess, or wild guesses.

METHODOLOGY & HISTORY IN ANTHROPOLOGY SERIES

'I AM HERE', ABRAHAM SAID Emmanuel Levinas and Anthropological Science Nigel Rapport, University of St Andrews

One of the most significant philosophical voices of the twentieth century – the philosopher of 'the Other' – Emmanuel Levinas' work offers a challenge to the discipline of anthropology that claims knowledge of the human. Levinasian philosophy considers subjectivity and identity as 'secret'. For him an attempt to document humanity should then be placed in an ethics of ignorance and 'not-knowing' so that 'otherness' can be inspired.

DYNAMICS OF POLITICAL DOMINATION IN AFRICA An Axel Sommerfelt Collection

Axel Sommerfelt Edited by Tone Sommerfelt, Marek Jakoubek, Thomas Hylland Eriksen Afterword by Adam Kuper

Axel Sommerfelt has been an important influence on Norwegian and Scandinavian anthropology, but his contributions are almost unknown. This book brings together some of his critical writings, newly written articles and an interview which positions him in the history of 'North Sea' social anthropology and shows his continued relevance.

Volume 46, March 2024, 252 pages ISBN 978-1-80539-289-7 Hb $135.00/£99.00 eISBN 978-1-80539-290-3 $34.95/£27.95

THE SPIRIT OF MATTER Modernity, Religion, and the Power of Objects Peter Pels, University of Leiden

A range of meaningful objects—exhibits of human remains or live people, fetishes, objects in a Catholic Museum, exotic photographs, commodities, and computers—demonstrate a subordinate modern consciousness about powerful objects and their 'life'. The Spirit of Matter discusses these objects that move people emotionally but whose existence is often denied by modern wishful thinking of 'mind over matter'.

BERGHAHN JOURNALS

Now in its 4th year, the Berghahn Open Anthro—Subscribe-to-Open initiative is an equitable open access model which flipped 15 core anthropology journals fully open access. Over 40 institutions are currently supporting the initiative at the collections level and over 300 institutions at the title level!

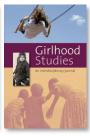

To learn more about supporting Berghahn Open Anthro, visit: berghahnjournals.com/BOA

Benefits of Subscribe-to-Open:

- An opportunity for authors to publish without paying APCs, which promotes equity and diversity in scholarly research.
- A sustainable and seamless open access solution for both libraries and publishers.
- Open content to researchers with limited access to important resources.
