

CONTENTS

List of Figures	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction. Who Are 'We'?	1
Liana Chua and Nayanika Mathur
Part I. Revisiting the Anthropological 'We'
Chapter 1. Anthropology at the Dawn of Apartheid: Radcliffe-Brown and Malinowski's South African Engagements, 1919–34	37
Isak Niehaus
Chapter 2. The Savage Noble: Alterity and Aristocracy in Anthropology	60
David Sneath
Part II. Alterity and Affinity in Anthropology's Global Landscape
Chapter 3. The Anthropological Imaginarium: Crafting Alterity, The Self and an Ethnographic Film in Southwest China	95
Katherine Swancutt
Chapter 4. The Risks of Affinity: Indigeneity and Indigenous Film Production in Bolivia	128
Gabriela Zamorano Villarreal
Chapter 5. Shifting the 'We' in Oceania: Anthropology and Pacific Islanders Revisited	151
Ty P. Kāwika Tengan

Part III. Where Do 'We' Go from Here?

Chapter 6. Crafting Anthropology Otherwise: Alterity, Affinity and Performance Gey Pin Ang and Caroline Gatt	179
Chapter 7. Towards an Ecumenical Anthropology João de Pina-Cabral	207
Afterword Mwenda Ntarangwi	233
Index	241