

Contents

List of Figures	viii
Acknowledgements	ix
List of Abbreviations	x
Foreword.
The Politics of the Twentieth-Century Social Survey Mike Savage	xi
Introduction.
From Door to Door to Digital: The Evolving Social Survey in the Making of Modern Knowledge Charlotte Greenhalgh and Clare Corbould	1
Part I. The Social Survey beyond the Imperial Metropolitan Centre, 1907–1930s
Chapter 1.
Extending the German Enquete Overseas: South Pacific Responses to the 1907 Commission for the Study of Native Law Daniel Midena and Anna Echterhölter	19
Chapter 2.
Researching While Black and Female: How the Unsung Labour of African American Women Pioneered Social Survey Methods Clare Corbould	38

Chapter 3.
The League of Nations International Survey of Traffic in Women across Asia	61
Julia T. Martínez
Part II. The Survey and the State, 1920s–1950s
Chapter 4.
Facts of the Nation: Social Surveys and State Remaking in China, 1920s–1930s	81
Tong Lam
Chapter 5.
Surveying the City and the Country: Universities, Social Science Research and the State in Australia	95
Kate Darian-Smith
Chapter 6.
‘We Talk So Much about Democracy, and Do So Little about It’: Surveying African American Soldiers in the Second World War	115
David Goodman
Chapter 7.
The Strange Career of Social Surveys in the Early People’s Republic of China	138
Arunabh Ghosh
Part III. Researchers and the Emergence of the Surveyable Subject in the West, 1940s–1980s
Chapter 8.
Hidden in the Archive: Rereading Young and Firth on Postwar Working-Class Community in Britain	157
Jon Lawrence
Chapter 9.
Happy Families and the Rise of Social Science Research in the British Popular Press in the 1930s	173
Laura King
Chapter 10.
‘Our Resources Were Ourselves’: Women and Grassroots Survey Research in Aotearoa New Zealand, 1960s–1980s	187
Charlotte Greenhalgh

Chapter 11.

- 'If You Weren't Known': Racialized Practices of Surveying and Surveillance in Twentieth-Century Australia 207
Katherine Ellinghaus and Jordana Silverstein

Part IV. When the Personal Became Political: Family Life, Relationships and Sex, 1970s–2020sChapter 12.

- 'What Do You Think?' The Australian Royal Commission on Human Relationships, 1974–77 229
Michelle Arrow

Chapter 13.

- Sex Talk: A Short History of the Sex Survey in Australia 244
Zora Simic

Afterword.

- Polymorphous Inquiries 262
Catherine Waldby and Warwick Anderson

- Index* 268