

Contents

List of Illustrations vii

Acknowledgements x

Introduction. Challenging Norms: Family Planning as a Reflection of Social Change in Twentieth-Century Eastern Europe: Introductory Remarks 1
Heidi Hein-Kircher and Elisa-Maria Hiemer

Part I. Transnational Perspectives

Chapter 1. Family Planning, Reproductive Decision-Making, Health Feminism: Changing Norms and Social Practices of Reproduction in the Twentieth Century 25
Isabel Heinemann

Chapter 2. Conflicting Norms: The Evolvement of Fetal Rights
vs. Reproductive Rights in a Transnational Perspective;
The Cases of Ireland and Poland 55
Anja Titze

Part II. On the Stage: Negotiating the Intimate/Private

Chapter 3. “Mother, Think of Me”: Women and Mothers in the Upper Silesian Plebiscite Propaganda 87
Allison Rodriguez

Chapter 4. The Vicious Circle of Abortions: Family Planning in the Kingdom of Yugoslavia (1918–1941) 106
Ivana Dobrivojević Tomić

Chapter 5. Wartime Sexual Violence and Its Consequences in the Catholic and Medical Postwar Discourses in Poland, 1945–1946 126
Jakub Gałęziowski

Chapter 6. Revisiting the “Illegitimacy” Phenomenon: Evidence from Twentieth-Century Greece 148
Tryfonas Lemontzoglou

Part III. Against the Norms: Revisiting Family Concepts

- Chapter 7. Hungarian and German Childbearing in Nineteenth-Century South Transdanubia: A Fertility History of the Roman Catholic German Community of Mágocs and the Calvinist Hungarian Community of Vajszló (1791–1890) 175
Gábor Koloh
- Chapter 8. Prostitution and Motherhood in the Twentieth Century in Czech Lands 201
Dominika Kleinová
- Chapter 9. Sexuality, Reproductive Rights, and Partnership
as Areas of Conflict in Postwar Poland 224
Michael Zok
- Chapter 10. From “Abortion Culture” to Family Planning:
The Continuities and Discontinuities of Birth Control Regimes in Twentieth-Century Hungary 248
Fanni Svégel

Part IV. Across Borders: Shaping the Knowledge

- Chapter 11. Confrontation and Dialogue: Family Planning Narratives and Activisms in Interwar Poland 273
Sylwia Kuźma-Markowska
- Chapter 12. Family Planning in Slovakia (1939–1945) and Its Ideological Influences 295
Eva Škorvanková
- Chapter 13. Sovietization of Women in Lithuania: Representations of Motherhood and Family Planning in the Magazine Tarybine Moteris (1952–1989) 314
Ieva Balčiūnė
- Chapter 14. Navigating Late USSR Family Planning:
Scattered Narratives from Demography and Medicine 334
Nataliya Shok and Nadezhda Beliakova

Part V. Concluding Remarks

- Afterword. New Directions in the Histories of Family Planning 363
Agata Ignaciuk
- Index 372