

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Chapter 1. Legal and Social Framework: Progress and Setbacks in Emancipation	10
Emancipation	10
Antisemitism and the Reversal of Emancipation	15
Entry into Middle-Class Society (Embourgeoisement), Assimilation, and Intra-Jewish Distinctions	23
Demographic Characteristics	31
Chapter 2. Life and Upbringing	44
Child Education	45
Marriage	47
Food and Dietary Issues	52
Chapter 3. Education	56
Schooling	58
Higher Education	65
Language	68
Chapter 4. Work	72
Trades, Sectors, and Industries	74
The Civil Service	80
Women in the Workplace	84

Between Persistence and Change: New Types of Jobs in the Weimar Republic	85
A Transformation of Professional Profiles and the End of Occupational Diversity: National Socialism	86
New Beginnings	88
The Military	89
Chapter 5. Places of Residence and Mobility	93
Urbanization	96
Neighborhoods	99
Migration	101
Chapter 6. Political Engagement and Activism	107
Political Participation	107
Jewish Clubs, Associations, and Societies	113
Gemeinde	127
Chapter 7. Conviviality and Socializing	136
Reading Together	138
Sports	141
Youth	142
Chapter 8. Research and Representation	147
Scholarship and Science	147
Institutionalization of Research and Scholarship	149
Culture	156
Epilogue	168
Suggestions for Further Reading	169
Index	173