

---

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vi
Acknowledgements	viii
Introduction Indian Psychiatric Spaces and 'Mad' Narratives	1
Chapter 1 Ethnographic Research in Psychiatry: Ethical Contemplations and Sensorial Engagements	44
Chapter 2 Everyday Routines, Life and Solitudes at Asha	77
Chapter 3 Resisting the Uniform: Social Distinctions and Hierarchies in the Wards	110
Chapter 4 A Machine for the Production of Inscriptions: Practices of Paperwork at Asha	145
Chapter 5 Negotiations and Imaginations in the Context of Discharge and Rehabilitation	178
Chapter 6 'This Hospital is Not Good': What a Psychiatric Patient Can Tell Us about Psychiatric Culture	213
Chapter 7 Being Gay and Feeling Female: Queer Voices from Indian Psychiatry	240
Conclusion Listening to 'Mad' Narratives	276
References	286
Index	309