

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Introduction. Is Female to Male as NGO Is to State? Andria D. Timmer, Christopher Loy, and Elizabeth Wirtz	1
Part I. Patterns of Reproduction: NGO and State Relations through a Gendered Lens	29
Chapter 1. NGOs and States of Aging: NGO as Male/Culture Advocates and as Female/Nature Caregivers Alexandra Crampton	32
Chapter 2. Surviving the State: Strategic Essentialism and the Complexities of Indigeneity among the Ainu of Northern Japan Christopher Loy	50
Chapter 3. From “Warm and Fuzzy” to “Business Oriented” Practices: The Politics of Exclusion and Masculinization of Alternative Justice in the United States Amanda J. Reinke	74
Part II. Care Work as Feminized Work	93
Chapter 4. From Stranger to Neighbor: Gendered Voluntarism as Feminist Caring Politics against Australia’s Hostile Borders Tess Altman	96
Chapter 5. Rural Women’s Self-Determination and Grassroots Resistance Movement: Reclaiming Land and Traditional Livelihoods in Odisha Smita Mishra Panda and Annapurna Devi Pandey	124

Chapter 6. Neglectful Fathers and Mothers Who Mean Well: Love and Hate of Hungarian Roma “Children” Andria D. Timmer	150
Chapter 7. En/gendering Aixin : Philanthropy and Gendered Practice of Compassion in Postsocialist China Yang Zhan	172
Part III. Beyond the Binary: Intersectionality and Queer Spaces in NGOs	191
Chapter 8. “Little Dear Mothers”: Governing the “Republic of NGOs” Mark Schuller	193
Chapter 9. Identity and the Construction of Trans Citizenship in Guatemala Alejandra Wundram Pimentel	217
Chapter 10. To Foresee the Unforeseeable: LGBT and Feminist Civil Society and the Question of Feminine Desire Tamar Shirinian	240
Conclusion. Queering the NGO/State Binary: On Governing Stateless Peoples Elizabeth Wirtz	264
Index	286